

Wychavon kayak and Canoe Club

Recommended Reading

The Welsh Rivers by Chris Sladden

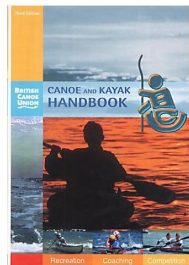

Good bedtime reading to get your sense of adventure going. I think there may be a second issue out now

English White Water

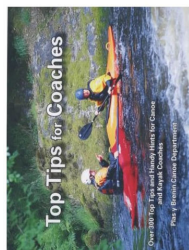

by the British Canoe Union

As above. Good reference for the South West white water

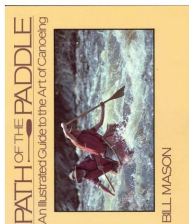

Canoe and Kayak Handbook by the British Canoe Union

The original reference book. I've not seen the latest edition yet!

Top Tips for Coaches by Plas y Brenin

For you budding coaches and old hands alike

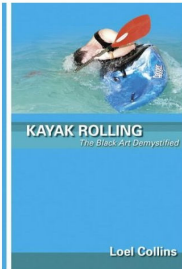

Path of the Paddle by Bill Mason

An absolute classic. This is actually part of a series with the "Song of Paddle" a very good companion if you are interested in wilderness travel

White Water Safety and Rescue by Franco Ferrero (2nd Edition)

Safety and rescue by the book. Well this is the book!

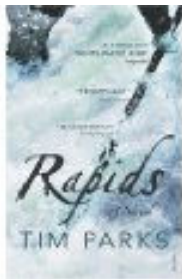

Kayak Rolling: The Black Art Demystified
by Loel Collins

For the frustrated rollers amongst you

Kayak: A Manual of Technique
by William Nealy

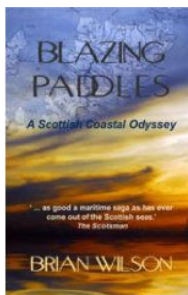

A bit dated now but some classic river running theory hilariously illustrated. The funniest theory book you will probably ever find

Rapids
by Tim Parks

Not often you find a novel with kayaking at the centre.

“Suddenly alone, you see the river's horizon come to meet you. There's a certain glassiness to it as the roar of the rapid swells the water grows more compact, it pulls more earnestly. Above and around, the mountains are quite still. Already you are past the point of no return. You must choose your line. 'In the dramatic landscape of the Italian Alps a group of English canoeists arrive for an 'introduction to white water'.”

Blazing Paddles
by Brian Wilson

Alone in his tiny kayak, Brian Wilson sets off on an 1800-mile odyssey around Scotland's grand cliffscapes, unspoiled shorelines, fearsome sea passages and Hebridean islands.
